life is hard, I try not to cry at all struggle the pain inside and I write them bars if you hated me enough, would you aim and shoot me? if I died right now, would you say you knew me? life's not a movie, no happy end who's real and who's down? gotta watch your friends when I drop them rhymes you can feel my presence say it loud and clear so you can hear my message fake inside every single person ain't nobody the same, ain't nobody perfect some say they down, but later you found out they're lying, and you moving on a down route I'm the same as you and I gotta pay to eat gettin' hungry, makin' money, it's a daily routine I throw on a loop, put it on repeat grab a pen and a pad and dedicate it to the streets
