j reyez
you gotta understand that everybody has struggles no matter who you are or your from you na what im saying
i just keep my head up and look to the sky.
Just feel me on this one. che uh growing up as a kid wasnt hard to get along school i wasnt cool but I knew where I belong And It wasnt that long till my life went wrong keep my head up and i had to stay strong only fifteen and my pops now gone the fam fell apart financially drawn from living a normal life, but that life goes on now i dedicate my time put my heart on this song rules I had to follow abused but I got up and i looked into his eyes used to be my role model i look at myself as a fatherless figure me, i learned well enough to never be a quitter just see what i go through listen to my message not a lesson

but a story but my life that im stressing i look to the sky always ask a lot of questions like what to do please give me a suggestion

when i look to the sky
keep my head up high
everything's going wrong
but my life goes on
and i gotta stay strong
as i sing this song

two years ago lived in a big house uptown, calm cool, but that all fell down had childhood friends but we went our separate ways some matured quick but the other stayed the same some became two-faced and nobody could be trusted only sixteen but I had to keep hustling keep up the pace not broke but struggling had to do something I started from nothing and i still here contemplating all times as a kid but the pride is alive in my mind you can see it in my eyes look deep down inside its hard to provide when reality collides if you feel you wanna die turn around and let me guide you beside you the answer is not suicidal just stay strong if you feel you want to cry just look to the sky, keep your head up high

im gone, peace
