(chorus)

(verse 1 - J.Reyez)

one day I woke up in the morning, I got up and I went to the kitchen and I'm feeling tired, I gotta work and I gotta make a living
I looked in the fridge and I made some breakfast just to start my day and the feeling inside me and it feels like your so far away
I stayed up day and night, waiting and waiting I wanted to see you
it's all good you were busy, I know that you miss me when your with your people you told me you went to your friends, I called you to make sure everything's fine and the time was quarter after nine, hung up when you said goodbye
let me flip the script and tell you in the other ones
perspective
I got off the phone and I'm feeling like this persons too protective
I was with a next and it lead to sex and I'm just trying to chill no relationships, I don't want that shit, I don't care bout what you feel sometimes I don't get why I'm still with you, we should keep it simple your mistake was the one you made, you should just leave me and let go it was from the get go baby I'm just not into relations it was just infatuation, babe your just gonna have to face it

(chorus)

you don't have to lie no more (no more) cause I already know you can't even hide no more (no more) cause I know where it is that you go watching you walk out the door (the door) and I'm trying hard to understand how the love that we shared is gone while you lay in his arms (taking my love)

giving it all to the next man

(verse 2 - Chris Jackson)

I ain't gonna waste time trying to do something drastic like getting your new man's ass kicked (that ain't gonna get me no where) shawty did you think I wouldn't discover bout you creeping out with another (acting like you don't even care) so you're not worth tears or my energy cause now I realize we were never meant to be (meant to be) I ain't trying to be no place where I'm not wanted to stay so I'll walk away

(chorus)

one day I woke up afternoon.. and I still was feeling exhausted but I do what I do and I had to move and there can't be no stopping phone rang didn't pick it up, 5 missed calls and I had enough
I don't really understand the trust and I ask myself is it really love?
last night was a little crazy, had a few drinks and it made me wavy went to the room with the next that I just met already calling me baby?
started to check on the regular and I didn't know which one I preferred and I ask myself will it really work? or am I confused my sight is blurred
perspective
I fell in love with someone that I cared and well respected
I tried to provide the affection, love and protect, tried to be perfected it was all for you and I guess that I just felt a false connection
the one that you thought you found but then it started falling down
get worried about the stories that you always heard around one night I called cause I missed you, wanted to hear that soothing voice no pick up and I found out word of mouth, your regret was your choice I'm gone
