further than it's all remembered roots of this entire matter led to this moment led to this one bold moment on top of distrust we can then we can freeze frame this picture of tears in eyes and the taste of your lips always will fade the taste of your lips always will fade over time and it's on my own they escape into violence while standing still completely still so pray with me on Sundays and keep your word from far away now a new objective is
set out
and document these vows and keep this pen in my hand
set out
it's then that we'll take from the last and we
set out
let then the next moment include fate as we take only then the next moment will include fate as we
set out
