I'm walking 'round, pretty down on my luck
When I saw my reflection in a puddle and said to myself
How's it come so cold and numb in this town of mine?
There must be something in the pipeline for me Just give me half a chance and surely you will see That I've got more to give than somebody with no heart and soul

Well hey, anyway, how could you possibly understand
Or see, see that we, we're poles apart in another land?
But I've gotta say, get it off my chest
What good's potential if I've got no interest at all anymore? Not at all

I'm walking round pretty down on myself And I'm passing the places where I used to play when I was a kid
Blink an eye and time goes by in this town of mine
My mother told me don't let them hold you back
I know that it's easy just to sit around having the craic That's no good, I know I can do much more than this

So hey, anyway, how could you possibly understand
Or see, see that we, we're poles apart in another land?
But I've gotta say, get it off my chest
What good's potential if I've got no interest at all
anymore? Not at all

So hey, anyway, how could you possibly understand
Or see, see that we, we're poles apart in another land?
But I've gotta say, get it off my chest
What good's potential if I've got no interest at all
anymore? Not at all
