Said it's always like that
You got good intentions and end up just being a twat
Seems to just do anything to get her laugh
It's tongue and cheek but it can come out brash
You wanna think of peoples' feelings
A little bit of tact is what you lack
And that shit that you were chatting to that bird
While your bird lies at home, just proper slack

Cause you're gonna reap what you sow
Hear the voice of reason and you don't wanna know
Looking over shoulders and walking over roads
Gonna have to face this and see how things go

And it's never until the morning
You realise what upon you was dawning
It's too late, look mate the damage is done
Simple maths if you'd have done the sums
Just don't say them gags
And realise that she's with those lads
And maybe if you just answered your phone
And listened to your girl when she said come home
That's what it would have took man
Just that little bit of sense son
And you wouldn't be in this predicament
And you wouldn't be gettin' run
You better run 'cause

You're gonna reap what you sow
Hear the voice of reason and you don't wanna know
Looking over shoulders and walking over roads
Gonna have to face this and see how things go

Uncomplicate this and try to keep it tidy
Why ruin such a damn good party
So many just like you looking for somebody
They're lookin' so god damn' ready

Sat in the door, since no escape
Plan your route to avoid the scrape
You'll bump into them and when you do
Seconds out - round two

You always take it that step too far
Every time you seem to raise the bar
Every time you show my house would clash
The foolish move you pulled out for laugh
And it was funny once man but you're getting kind of boring
And you've always believed in karma
I guess it's time you start acting calmer.

Cause you're gonna reap what you sow
Hear the voice of reason, and you don't wanna know
Looking over shoulders and walking over roads
Gonna have to face this and see how things go

Uncomplicate this and try and keep it tidy
Why ruin such a damn good party
So many just like you looking for somebody
They're lookin' so god damn ready
They're lookin' so god damn ready (it's time to move your body now)
She's lookin' so god damn ready (it's time to move your body now)
He's lookin' so god damn ready (it's time to move your body now)
They're lookin' so god damn ready (it's time to move your body now)
It's time to move your body now
It's time to move your body now
It's time to move your body now
It's time to move your body now
Ooohh...
Ooohh...
It's time to move your body now
Ooohh...
Ooohh...

So uncomplicate this and try and keep it tidy
Why ruin such a damn good party
So many just like you looking for somebody
Well they're lookin' so god damn ready
