Met you in a caf
At a table meant for two
You were sitting by your lonesome
When I sat down with you Tried hard not to show it
But I couldn't help but see
That you wore your broken heart out on your sleeve
And your loneliness could not disguise
The beauty and the charm
Thought if I ever get you, shattered lady, in my arms

Chorus:

Im gonna rock you baby to sleep
Im gonna make you crazy over me
Im gonna hold you like you've never been held before
And love you till you tell me you can't love anymore
Im gonna shake your emotion right down to your soul
And then Im gonna love you all over in and out of control
If this is how love is supposed to feel
Baby I know Ive fallen head over heels
Im gonna rock you baby

Over open conversation and a bottle of red wine
You said this world is full of users and I know that Ive had mine
We danced a little slow dance until they closed that caf down
You said what would be the chances that tonight I finally found
Someone who makes me feel like my life is just begun?
I said girl believe in me and Ill show you how its done

Chorus
