parlez no, they won't mind, six to nine's a long, long time but they won't miss it, they'll just forget it that shit'll twist your little mind if you let it so, slow down... lean in, call up that feeling you get when you're stealing, that all too revealing side of you who loves you true, but they'll just forget it, they'll just forget it

who love the blue sky, who wear the dark eye
you get when you're dealing, you start to believe it and there ain't nobody, who loves me, it's starting to sink in, so lean in, and start to decieve it, that all too revealing

slow down... lean in, call up that feeling you get when you're dealing, that all too deceiving side
of you
forget it
who love the blue sky, who wear the dark eye

you get when you're reeling, that all too concealing side of you
who loves you true, but they'll just forget it, they'll just

who love the blue sky, who wear the dark eye
who love the blue sky, who wear the dark eye
who love the blue sky, who wear the dark eye
