(Spencer)

You don't have to watch my lips you don't need to read between the lines I don't need to crack the whip you got the taste of a nervous smile taste of a nervous smile...
Finger on the trigger, finger on the trigger daddy put the squeeze on you blame for the weekend, jump into the deep end
It could be you saw the signs it could be you touched the flames you've got jump into the deep end you've got to swim to the other side blame me for the weekend trapped by the rising tide
trapped by the rising tide...
Finger on the trigger, finger on the trigger
Don't have to watch my lips don't have to read the lines
I don't need to crack the whip you've got to jump into the deep end you've got to swim to the other side blame for the weekend
trapped by the rising tide

Released as a single November 1988.
