"Where Do You Run"

(Brewster-Neeson-Brown)
there you go -- ahead of the rest you say you're the first, but first ain't the test places you go but you don't know who's left the strangers you know you have learned to impress look around, you make a break with every chance you take Where do you run
how do you love you know you got it all but can't get enough Look at you, the night is your cross I heard you cry -- you've been wasted and lost
