Step inside.
Step inside.
Step inside.

(You never know unless you try)

You're entering a door way a gate way to death, don't stay on earth come with me and take your final breath, no more pain and torture, it's time to give them some they'll wish they never picked on you your time has fucking come,

Will you step inside
come on in and you take your life (kill yourself)
will you step inside
come on in as you take your fucking life

your standing at a doorway but are you coming in?
you pains become pleasure commit your final sin, there's no heaven from suicide that what they always say, you've done so much wrong, you won't go there anyway

Will you step inside
come on in and you take your life (kill yourself)
will you step inside

(you'll never know unless you try)
(you'll never know unless you try)
(you'll never know unless you try)
(you'll never know unless you try)

razor blades cut tender flesh you wanna see whats on the other side, cut to your head, close your eyes
you wanna see whats on the other side, rope around your neck, on the edge of a seat
you wanna see whats on the other side

wits end, can't sleep, will you be at peace
on the other side?

Yeah. Is it a promise or just another threat?
