Words and music by 6025

I don't need your way of life

I can't stand your attitudes

I can do without your strife

I don't need this fucking world

I don't need this fucking world

This world brings me down

Gag with every breath

This world brings me down

I'm looking forward to death

It seems so unreal to me

So much hate and so mouch pity

I can't take another day

It's such a bore

It gets me really sore

I don't need this fucking world

I don't need this fucking world

This world brings me down

Gag with every breath

This world brings me down

I'm looking forward to death

I'm looking forward to death
