Words and Music by East Bay Ray

Your mommy told you this

And your daddy told you

Always think like this

And never do that

You learned so many feelings

But what is there to that

Which are really yours

Or are you just a copycat

You're so boring boring boring

Always tape machine recording

You're so boring boring boring

I've heard all this before

Planless and mindless

Scraps from anywhere

Bunch of used parts

From garbage pails everywhere

Frankenstein became a monster

Just like you

Your scars only show

When someone talks to you

You're so boring boring boring....

I've heard all this before

Your emotions make you a monster
