Take a step back, where have you been?
On the road less travelled again
On your way up while you descend
Always remember

Take a step back, who do you know?
Are you where you can always go?
No matter where you find to be the end
Always remember

Gone are the days I remember
Never the same, but I remember
All the days I've left behind
All the things that still remind me
Of where I've been (and where I stand)
What I know and who I am

Take a step back, who have you lost?
Can you feel them when you're reachin' across?
Can you believe that you used to always be here?
Do you remember?

Take a look back, did you believe
You'd still be lookin' for something to be?
But you're better off and you will agree
When you remember

Gone are the days I remember
Never the same, but I remember
All the days I've left behind
All the things that still remind me
Of where I've been (and where I stand)
What I know and who I am

Gone are the days I remember
Never the same, but I remember
All the days I've left behind
All the things that still remind me
Of where I've been (and where I stand)
What I know and who I am

Take a step back, where have you been?
On the road less travelled again
