I'm told

Life is good

But how can it be

When this world is so cold

Maybe I'm just making the worst of every situation

I've been in

Maybe it's all coming from my imagination

But I don't think soâ€¦

No

It feels like the end of the road

But I've barely began

Everyone around me is so cold

Criticising everything I've done

All my friends are turning their backs on me

Just coz I'm not who they want me to be

I try to make myself into something

But I just keep falling apart

I feel so lonely sometimes

So alone, it feels like I've died

But I'm somewhere else now

Where the sun shines in everyone's heart

Where people never drift apart

I'm somewhere else now

Somewhere new and beautiful

Where everyone glows with joy

Where love fills everyone's eyes

And then I woke up to find

That it was just a dream

There's no place like that here

No place like that to be found

In this world

This cold world
