you look almost dead
face down in our bed our heads full of seditives we rest

you're sweet like a child and wild as the devil heaven surely sends its regrets but we rest content

cos if we die tonight, i do not care there will be no need to be scared yeah, if we do not make it, i don't mind all i want is to sleep by your side too many people live imprisoned stuck somewhere between the is and isn't the night will pass and we'll no longer think on what it was or what it wasn't i may never win this race i may never have money on me it all seems a lottery anyway i got a job that pays my rent and i can take you out now and then it's all about the time we spend together anyway and if we die tonight, i do not care

all i want is to sleep by your side
the night will pass and we'll no longer think on
