

Anne Haigis "Spanish Cowgirl"

Visit "Spanish Cowgirl" on MotoLyrics.com

Sometimes it's hard to say
Sometimes it's really strange to make your day
Even if you walk outside the sunlight in the sky
Sometimes makes you feel crazy inside

So please don't walk too fast
Stay cool if somebody wants to ask
About your smile and if there's something
Wrong within your life
Your eyes will cut his tongue just like a knife

There's no Spanish cowgirl there's no pope in Brazil
See the grass is green and I'm sure it always will
Why do all these people look with different eyes
A blessing in disguise

Try to leave it all behind
But still there is something different in your mind
See that old man over there
He's walking down the street
He's walking with no shoes on his feet

There's no Spanish cowgirl there's no pope in Brazil
See the grass is green and I'm sure it always will
Why do all these people look with different eyes
A blessing in disguise

Even if you say that red is green
Now you say that green is red
So I want you to know there's one place you can go
You to know there's one place you should go

There's no Spanish cowgirl...

Visit Anne Haigis page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.