Bright winter moon, can you feel it, as it's callin' you Down that dark lonely path where blood and fire brew Hear the wolves howl, in this dark and wet cold air Into the lost souls land, I'm gonna take you there Down deep in the walls, crawlin' up from the cellar stairs
Back from the windows black, all those pale faces glare
So take my hand, I want to show you these darkened things
So come on baby, darlin' spread your wings 'cause i said
For your soul it's too late, when you come and join me on my Transylvania Dream Where black staring eyes come holding back on to you And i know that the fire burns red
And i feel the evil burning in my head
And it all gets up to you, I want to fly
The air grows thick, and the blood red rain comes pouring down
Twist your fate in the serpents all around And a cold black hand comes clamping down upon your soul
You are as what is and forever has been told
Chorus
Cold winter moon, I can feel it, can you feel it too

Down that dark lonely path, just me and you

Take my hand, I wanna show you these dark dead

So come on baby, darlin' spread your wings 'cause i
said

Chorus
