English translation

Just now, something suddenly burst open in my chest.
Even though I recognize that place only on a map, it doesn't feel faraway at all. That one photo with you in it has thrust
upon us the heavy reality we shoulder. Do not overlook that small arm
that's faintly holding out for help.
It's a tender life that lacks the power to survive alone. Just what does this era want from us?
To where is it guiding us...?
Only indifferent pities and words echo emptily.
So let's start walking, start pursuing
a road that will eventually lead to you Because we want to respond to your voice, we should be able to cross that border line. It's true; it must be something planned by someone out there.
He merely wants to convey to the world the truth at the borderline and its beyond. Beaten by the violent rainstorm,
they kept on screaming "No more war!" Do not overlook that faint
but only road to survival.
It's a transient light of hope swaying in the darkness. In such a world, we believe in tomorrow and fight relentlessly.
The ideals of coexistence and coprosperity are mere illusions.
We will not run from any future,
we just want to save you now.
So we want you to believe that there is love over here.
The weakest always have to pay the price of war.
Bullshit! Too much already! Boo bullshit! Too much already!
No border! Sing about love! No more tears! Think differently!
No border! No more hate! No more war!
No more kill! Just what does this era want from us?
To where is it guiding us...?
Only indifferent pities and words echo emptily.
So let's start walking, start pursuing

a road that will eventually lead to you Because we want to respond to your voice, we should be able to cross that border line. Just now, something suddenly
burst open in my chest.
Even though I recognize that place only on a map,
it doesn't feel faraway at all.
