she won't settle for a creep like me ain't i good enough for her please don't kick me when i'm down because you can't kill what's already dead watching from a distance trying to see i'm dying to see you

watching from a distance
trying to see i'm dying to see you here tonight you're snatched right in front of me don't you know that i'm still here but when it's over once again will you know just what you missed can you handle honesty without rejecting me...

tonight here tonight
i'll see you here tonight here tonight
