Don't live in black and white do we?
It's just another fight to me
If we don't take it on we won't get far

It seems so far away but so close
It's there for us to take when most
Would waste it don't waste it

And we try, and we fail
And we live another day
And we rise like a phoenix
From the flames
And it burns but turns out golden

We loved to dream aloud
With both feet on the ground
But where's the sense in that?
We'd never get it back
We'd be wasted we'd be wasted

And we try, and we fail
And we live another day
And we rise like a phoenix
From the flames
And it burns but it turns out golden

And we went for the sky
And fell down low
And flew too high
But survived cos you and I
We turned out golden

They tore it to pieces
We'll build it again
Ah ah ah
Ah ah ah

And we try, and we fail
And we live another day
And we rise like a phoenix
From the flames
And it burns but it turns golden

And went for the sky
And fell down low
And flew too high
But we still survived cos you and I
We turned out golden
