As I woke up to feel the sun on Sunday morning...
oooh..feel it rising in me.
Hopped in my car, drove to the store on Sunday morning...
and oooh..I'm feeling free.
I believe that there are always happy endings.
I believe that fairy tales, they do come true.
I believe that there are always happy ever afters.
So I want, so I want you to believe....
On the way down to your house, I passed our corner...
And oooh..what did I see?
Little kids selling lemonade out on our corner.
And oooh..that used to be me.
I believe that there are always happy endings.
I believe that fairy tales, they do come true.
I believe that there are always happy ever afters.
So I want, so I want you to believe....
Chorus 2x's
