I started out I was just a baby boy
I would cruise on momma's hardwood floors
I was rollin like a rollin stone My big wheel kept a rollin on

I was flyin in my brain bucket and there was no other rush like it Saint Christopher was by my side and Oh Lord what a crazy ride

it's an
l-o-n-g l-o-n-g r-o-a-d long long road
It's a long road
It's a long road

It's a long Road we're travellin on
We count the steps to that thin horizon
We can't reach it - it keeps getting farther and these long days are wearin out my soul

yea It's a long Road we're ramblin on can you tell which is north and south
If I had a known it was just an illusion from the heat of the sun
rising off the blacktop
It's a long road
It's a long road

I'm loosing ground in this high stakes race Just tryin to keep it between the lines as my heart breaks
I pray the Lord I can keep the faith
Now the arrows pointing to empty on my fuel gage

Through the fog I see the checkered black & white Is that a beacon or the jaws of life Through the tunnel now I'm headin for the light another casualty has lost the fight

it's an
l-o-n-g l-o-n-g r-o-a-d long long road
It's a long road

It's a long road

It's a long Road we're travellin on
We count the steps to that thin horizon
We can't reach it - it keeps getting farther and these
long days are wearin out my soul

can you tell which is north and south
If I had a known it was just an illusion from the heat of
the sun
rising off the blacktop
It's a long road
It's a long road
