You say that I'm your source of pain
But I just don't want to fight
No I just don't wanna fight with you no more

They say that the world was made for pain, But I just don't want to fight, No I just don't wanna fight with you, no more

So lets lay our guns down, Cause peace on earth can be found
On the news today I saw a family go down in flames,
But I just don't want to fight
No I just don't wanna fight with you no more

In your house I pray that the Good Lord shows you the way, But I just don't want to fight
No I just don't wanna fight with you no more

In the White house today, you never admit to mistakes, 'Cause young men were made to fight, and there's just no mea culpa coming from D.C. you see
