They take off their coats
And they start to fill the rows
The scene is all laid out
It's what we always dreamed about

Cause you and me
Have stood the test of time
And proved that we
We will make it out alright
Today is when faith will turn to sight

The preacher takes his place
All eyes watching as I wait
The door is open wide
And I can't believe my eyes

Cause you and me
Have stood the test of time
And proved that we

We will make it out alright
Today is when faith will turn to sight

The funny thing is it doesn't matter much
What the world could try and throw at us
Cause they could never touch us

You and me
Have stood the test of time
And proved that we
We'll make it out alright
Cause you and me
Have stood the test of time
And proved that we
We will make it out alright
Today is when faith will turn to sight
