i only know what i believe the rest is so absurd to me i close my eyes so i cant see but the picture just gets clearer everyday i read somewhere to learn is to remember and ive learned we all forgot there was peace in her before but that was yesterday but i can see the beauty that is here for me the chance to live and walk free from a legal kill i know your side so very well it makes no sense that i can tell the smell o hell is what i smell and you hand it out with handshakes every day i have trouble with the persons with the signs but i feel the need to make my own yes there two ways to be and truth does not depend on me but i can feel the fight for life is always real i cant believe its no big deal its a legal kill [glory to the newborn...]
