early in the morning i hear my neighbors stereo the telephone should start to ringing as usual i listen to my answering machine screening all my calls solicitor wrong numbers and some i just dont k
i mailed your letter the other day but its got so far to go someone backed into my car it has a dent in the door now i cant stand eating breakfast early in the morning now theres someone knocking at my door its a friend whos getting married i hope it lasts longer than the one before i got the blues this morning just tryin to make it through to live and to love you sometimes suffer my neighbor called it payin dues another day just a fading memory flashes across my eyes here and there happy sed oh lord got to make this rhyme nothing much to tell you but ive got so much on my mind guess ill put this pencil down sincerely your friend i dont know what to say but how are you today
