This is a song for a girl I know and she's very special but she just does not know. So I went to her house but she was not home and when I returned this is what I wrote.

I will not sleep until I have her just for me because this is your song and I hope you do not take it wrong.

(chorus)

Listen to this song I wrote for. I want to know the words better than I do. Take your time listen close to every part then you will know whats in my heart.

I step up to the microphone tonight but I can barely see you through all the bright lights and I hope that you are in the front row so I can see you mouthing all the words along with me.

I will not sleep until I have her just for me because this is your song and I hope you do not take it wrong.

(chorus)

Just me and you like everyday and thats how it should be and thats how it should stay. Summer's not summer unless your with me and fall's not fall if you leave. no.

(chorus)
