I'm writing you these lines to make the summer go by this song is all I have to give to you my dear. It's sort of a promise ring in words that's all I can do until the next time that I see you take this song its for you.

chorus

Wait til this summer you know that this boy loves her but all he can do is write in words he promises that she comes first and they will talk everyday but the states won't keep away or keep him from not keeping his promise to her on this day the promise day.

Call me up whenever you need on these tin can phones we've made. They'll stretch across the countryside. Just yell and I won't hesitate. It's sort of a promise ring in words that's all I can do until the next time I see you take this song its for you.
