Lookin out through this picture window I see what you see tonight for the first its not the last time and as they sit he plays guitar and she sees into his heart for the first time.

chorus

Wait til your ship comes in tonight my friend and wish upon the first star you see tonight, its 11:11.

Lace up your tennis shoes while you listen to your favorite band. I hope you hear this song in a day or two and it makes you think of me.

And I know like you said watched phones never rang sing out loud like there is no one around and this is our big chance to break out and as they sit he plays guitar and she sees into his heart.

chorus

Break these hearts with every single pedal you pull off of this and thrown out like the wishes that she wasted on him.
