You and I both know that we have gone the same way and if we say hello I promise that I would always stay. If we had crossed paths as children would you know?
And if we lead lives 'til 99 will you wait to say goodbye?

*CHORUS***

What can you say to me that I haven't already heard?
It's been too hard pretending we're something we're not. Can't you find in yourself the person you've become? It's just too hard pretending you're something you're not.

You and I both waited our whole lives to spell out the story of us. It was our sweet goodbye. This is how it's gonna end with me saying to you, "If I had it back again we will not soon forget".

*CHORUS***

What are you holding onto that you can not let go, that you can't put behind you? Just put away that trouble that you're holding and grasping Take off that mask.
Put away your past. This is our chance. This is our chance to take off that mask. This is our chance to put away our past.
