I'm coming home on an eastbound bus
No need to worry no need to fuss
I'm coming home on an eastbound bus tonight

I heard a little wolf dug his claws in you
And broke that flood from your baby blues
I'm coming home on an eastbound bus tonight

Cause you're my reason
Your my reason
Reason to be

Sitting here trying to solve this mystery but I see through revisionist history
I'm coming home on an eastbound bus tonight

This son's coming up like a big bright light
To get you out of the darkest night
I'm coming home on an eastbound bus, alright

Cause you're my reason
Your my reason
Reason to be

Yeah it's wrong but that's alright
Your bound to find a happier time
Yeah it's wrong but that's alright
You get a chance to redefine

Cause you're my reason
Your my reason
Reason to be
