i think i lost my love today i wonder if its worth it to continue to continue on this way when all to live for i've already been through i wonder if there's something else something that can make it all worth while fill this hole inside myself dispel the darkness with a smile for months i wished i was somebody else so i wouldn't have to feel the pain feel this hole ripped inside myself maybe someday maybe someday it'll fade away word by word i'm torn apart one mistake is all it takes to kill me i'm told again that i must start but i'm not even sure if this is still me i try and try to erase it all there's always more for her to send i think to myself will i ever fall ever fall in love in this life again for months i wished i was somebody else so i wouldn't have to feel the pain feel this hole ripped inside myself maybe someday maybe someday it'll fade away and i won't fade away
