One drops how it starts
One blink it's a waterfall
Taking over everything
It's consuming all of me

I can't never see the signs
But now they're clear as black and white
Now I finally recognize
The writing on the wall

So don't say a word
Don't explain ,let it go
And please save your breath
Let it rain , let me drown
It's over now, just let me drown

Too smart for your own good
Always leading with your mind
Not your heart, wish you would

Too late you'll never know
What do we have to show for it
Besides a waste of time

I can't never see the signs
But now they're clear as black and white
Now I finally recognize
The writing on the wall

So don't say a word
Don't explain ,let it go
And please save your breath
Let it rain , let me drown
It's over now, just let me drown

Don't say a word
Don't explain ,let it go
And please save your breath
Let it rain , let me drown
It's over now, just let me drown

Don't say a word
Don't explain ,let it go
And please save your breath
Let it rain , let me drown

Don't say a word
Don't explain ,let it go
And please save your breath
Let it rain , let me drown
It's over now, just let me drown
