I'm rolling away the stone
I'm gonna resurrect my smile
I'm tire of staying home alone
Tonight I'm going out in style

Chorus:

I've been dying to start living again
Tired of trying to get through nights that never end
No more waiting, wasting time on a heart that's slow to mend
I've been dying to start living again

I'm sorry if it hurts your pride
When you see me with somebody new Acting like I'm born again
Acting like I'm over you

Chorus:

I've been dying to start living again
Tired of trying to get through nights that never end
No more waiting, wasting time on a heart that's slow to
I've been dying to start living again

Somewhere in the heart of this town
Lights are shining brightly
That's where you will find me now

No more waiting, wasting time on a heart that's slow to
I've been dying, no more crying
I've been dying to start living again
Start living, start living
