Steady your heart like a train car rolling home
Where we're going we just don't know how it'll go
No we don't know

All your big plans, when you're in the sand, burn
When the time comes you'll have to begin again
Begin again

Maybe if you said it like you mean it
It wouldn't be so hard to believe it

No it's not too late, too late
You know it's not too late, too late, to walk away
No it's not too late, too late
You know it's not too late, too late, to walk away
To walk away

Heavenly host and the holy ghost concur
But you're not sure, you're not sure if that's enough
If that's enough

Church bells ring and the choirs sing out to you
Even they knew, and so can you

Maybe if you said it like you mean it
It wouldn't be so hard to believe it

No it's not too late, too late
You know it's not too late, too late, to walk away
No it's not too late, too late
You know it's not too late, too late, to walk away
To walk away

To walk away

No it's not too late, too late
You know it's not too late, too late, to walk away
No it's not too late, too late
You know it's not too late, too late, to walk away

No it's not too late, too late

You know it's not too late, too late, to walk away
No it's not too late, too late
You know it's not too late, too late, to walk away
To walk away
