She wiped the hair right out of my eyes.
Tempted me through with desire.
I was trying my best at this stage.
To set myself on fire. Then she said hello.
I just get caught out.
All I get is all day long.
On me, and I stand much higher.
You can always get what you want.
If you're burning enough by fire. Then she said hello.
I just get caught out
Out again tonight, I'm tired. We need a room but there is no room.
Then she said good-bye.
I just get caught out.
Out again tonight, through these moonlit streets.
We need a room
But there is no room. Then she came again.
I just get caught out.
