"Mrs. morgan"

Mrs. Morgan's neighbours have finally had enough 'cause she's been telling fortunes and now she's called their bluff 'cause no one likes their secrets walking 'round the town and everyone's defeated as the light just shivers down she never wanted to see the rain it's an easy greasy Sunday the dew's still on the lawn a plane is writing letters 'people you've been warned' and the neighbourhood is praying now their secret's been revealed and Mrs. M keeps saying there's one thing you can't steal

but sometimes it crumbles like sand through your hands and sometimes it cracks and cracks
