Everybody is the same by Jasper Erkens
Everybody is the same
Saying things they shouldn't say
And doing things they don't want to
I said things I should deny
I'm not scared for what they find
'Cause every fear is a weakness

Everybody is the same
Saying things they shouldn't say

Standing still is a waste of time
So I try to walk around
And look at things from different sides
But don't put your trust in me
'cause I'm the one that you won't see
When you need me

And I might be lost today
Tomorrow I will find my way
I'm sure I'll find my way
Everybody is the same
Saying things they shouldn't say
