Maybe I will, maybe I won't

I don't wanna find my home
Just wonder what happened to it
My hands are cotton stones
Who stole all my bones?

All my forgotten poems
Are a joke
What do I know, baby wood rose
Doesn't it show?
People get old when they're alone

Maybe I will, maybe I won't

Seven days over the sea shells
Sunk so many leagues,
Will you come visit me?
Finally finding sleep,
We'll swin around in dreams,
Stay afloat

Maybe we will
Maybe we won't.
Doesn't it show?
People get old when they're alone

Maybe I will, maybe I won't
Maybe I will, maybe I won't

The weather is impeccable
Riding to a festival,
When suddenly it's gray

Do not be afraid,
For the wind it doesn't stay
It blows and goes away
It blows and goes
But never shows its face

Doesn't it show,
People get old when they're alone

What do I know maybe I will, maybe I won't

Maybe I will, maybe I won't (maybe I will, maybe I won't)

Maybe I will, maybe I won't (maybe I will, maybe I won't)

Maybe I will, maybe I won't (maybe I will, maybe I won't)
