Today will start out right,
Won't look back on last night,
On how you changed my life.
You walked in, I froze in place,
Those stunning eyes on that pretty face.

Sorry I didn't get your number.
Sorry I won't see you again.
Maybe if we're destined for each other,
I'll see you around the bend.

I didn't even catch your name, that day,
And it's a regret that won't go away.
When you walked in, I froze in place,
Such stunning eyes on that pretty face.
It's a regret that won't go away.

Sorry I didn't get your number.
Sorry I won't see you again.
Maybe if we're destined for each other,
I'll see you around the bend.

Sorry I didn't get your number.
Sorry I won't see you again.
Maybe if we're destined for each other,
I'll see you around the bend.
