Football stickers and paper dolls
It all gets buried in the end
Rosalea lipstick and midnight calls
It all gets buried in the end
Blind allegiance and foolish love
It all gets buried in the end
The Golden Fleece, Picasso's Dove
It all gets buried in the end

And it all, and it all
It all gets buried in the end
And it all, and it all
It all gets buried in the end

The lives we take, the books we burn
It all gets buried in the end
The lies we tell, the heads we turn
It all gets buried in the end
The voice, the bread, the bones we break
It all gets buried in the end
The hearts we grow with the love we make
It all gets buried in the end

And it all, and it all
It all gets buried in the end
And it all, and it all
It all gets buried in the end

The wars we wage, the blood we shed
It all gets buried in the end
The earth, the shovel, the quick, the dead
It all gets buried in the end
The tears I'm crying, the loss I feel
It all gets buried in the end
The bruises and the triumphs and the souvenirs
It all gets buried in the end
