Every time I run astray
And I believe I got problems I can't solve
Usually I'll have a drink
Make believe I got the answers to it all
All alone and I can't think
I reflect on the sun that's going down
I gotta fix that kitchen sink
Pick your little world up off the ground
All the world is asleep
And their dreaming like I used to but I'm wide awake
All the world is asleep
And their scheming like I used to
But my eyes are wide open

Set aside the rules I break
Try to ignore them myself
And I rely on my mistakes
To show me the way back from Hell
Move me towards a different view
Sometimes my world seems so strange
Now I see how you're the fool
You're all alone in your own crystal haze

All the world is asleep
And their dreaming like I used to
But I'm wide awake
All the world is asleep
And their scheming like I used to
But my eyes are wide open

You said your comments to me
And I've got no answer
Baby we'll just wait and see
Well I'm taking my chances

All the world is asleep
And their dreamin' like I used to but I'm wide awake
All the world is asleep
And their scheming like I used to my eyes are wide open

All the world is asleep
And their dreamin' like I used to buy I'm wide awake
All the world is asleep
And their scheming like I used to but my eyes are wide open
