We will be a melody so free a fragrance on the cooling breeze you to me such gentle poetry and who would not love days like these

Hold for us the crystal and the stream the velvet night our claim for this we will see with every waking dream love smiles and brings the sweetest kiss

And it's true reflections casting shadow to the light so still, it seems that we are etched in smoke tonight we will remember this the sweetest kiss

Should our dreams drift by as time unfolds between the sea and sky above we will stay together we will hold the peace and purity of love

I see life and light it shines from you a fragrance on the cooling breeze we will see infinity come through

And it's true, the music's flowing echoes in the light quietly now we are sketched in the mist tonight we will remember this, we will remember this
the sweetest kiss
