Take a look into my eyes
Did you see reflection of the mourn inside
Did you know how the pain overturns the soul
Would you carry that bitterness all life long

[Chorus:]

You can't just take a break and leave
Until the pain inside still breathes
And there is no relief, and if you're longing for the end
Just spit it out, yeah, go ahead!

Open your soul for this pain
A bleeding, never ending wound
The pain makes your heart beating faster
This pain, who's like cancer in your throat

You chose the simplest way of thinking
You were afraid to look inside
And to extinguish the pain's ember
By squeezing it with bare hands

[Chorus]

Alas, your fate is to be sentenced
Don't ever think of turning back
It is the pain - the burning ember
Who's coloring the life in black

[Lead: Deimoz]

Open your soul for this pain
A bleeding, never ending wound
The pain makes your heart beating faster
This pain, who's like cancer in your throat
