

The Revenge Project

"Outside World"

Visit "Outside World" on MotoLyrics.com

Can you feel the coming darkness when the ocean of sorrow
Swallows your mind
Do you hear the sigh of madness growing fast
In your precious silence

[Chorus:]

I've always know that the loneliness
Creates the sadness
I've seen people's eyes searching for the meaning of life
They are breaking through my heart
Always asking me for help
What can I do
When they give me their pain

That's why I built these walls
Between me and the outside world
I denied everything
The outside world brought me here

[Chorus]

I'm hiding my memories deep inside of me
I'm closing my eyes, I will never see
The darkness helps me to be free
And loneliness is the only friend
Who will never betray me

Is it worth to break the walls
To merge myself with the outside world
Is it worth to see the light
And after that to hate my life

I can't live with so much pain
I prefer the darkness of the lonely man
Instead of the light - people's pain

