Just give me one good reason to stay tonight
Must be something you could say to me
To keep me warm on this cold, cold night
Can you bring out the best in me
That old moon is shining brightly
Up above the midnight plains
I only want your love to guide me
Back through the night
And take us home again
Can I bring out the best in you as well
Must be someday you could let me know
While we wait out the sun
Only time will tell
Will you love me or let me go
That old moon is shining brightly
Up above the midnight plains
I only want your love to guide me
Back through the night
And take us home again
So now my friend with this gentle plea
Can you tell me
What is on your mind
There's just one good reason
That's all I need
To chase the sorrow from your eyes
That old moon is shining brightly
Up above the midnight plains
I only want your love to guide me
Back through the night
And take us home again
