"Stone Tears"

When it was dark above
The ground heat from below was all they Found
Standing here for all these years
If a statue could she'd stone tears
Why they fight no one knows
They're all too young long time ago
Standing here for all these years
If a statue could she'd stone tears
Peace by day bullets by night
Their ancient walls protect them now
No one feels
The heat from the earth
Their minds are at war
Feet full of nerves
And soldiers stare
At the figures so tall
Born into war
If a statue could she'd stone tears
Peace by day bullets by night
Their ancient walls protect them now
Their ancient walls
Their ancient walls
Their ancient walls
If a statue could she'd stone tears
