"Angel Dust"

Sweet silver moonlight is guiding me away
And in this moment through the fading disarray
Everything once loved is shrouded mystery
All in all

I've looked inside myself and glimpsed my fragile state
The said goodbye to all those friends and walked away
You my love have always understood my soul

So let's go... Marching on...
Towards light
Cause it feels like
Angel dust
Cause it feels like
Angel dust

I've talked to angels and I've known them all by name
But lately now our conversations seem in vain
But you my love have always understood my soul

So let's go... Marching on....
Towards light
Because it feels like
Angel dust
Because it feels like
Angel dust
