hey I know what
you want from me I've given all
that I can give you believe
what you believe
but I think I need
my soul to live
you say you don't want to tie me down
so what's with all
these ropes and chains
I know the deal
I've been downtown
I know to come in
out of the rain
take it easy on me
take it easy on me now I've always had
a wondering eye
I guess it was just passed on down to me
and the price I pay
is pretty high
to see this world
the way I see so I'm flying
out the window now
riding on the setting sun I'm getting back
behind the plow
and I'll work until
my work is done
